SENCO Introduces FramePro Combo Kits

Visit SENCO's booth at the Remodeler's Show (Booth #543) to see the new FramePro Combo Kits in person.

(CINCINNATI) -- Building on the resounding success of the finish nailing combo kits SENCO introduced this past spring, the pneumatic tool pioneer is now expanding its product line to include two new all-in-one framing and sheathing kits. SENCO's FramePro Combo Kits offer buyers everything they need to get started in a convenient package and at a great price.

The kits are assembled around two of SENCO's most popular framing nailers and SENCO's powerful but portable PC0967 compressor. The rugged compressor provides four gallons of air storage in its twin stacked tanks and 2 HP of reliable electric power to get the job done for pros and lighter-duty users alike. Its proven oil-splash design means longer life, and at only 63 pounds, it can be easily taken from job to job. Even with its compact design, the PC0967 still delivers a hefty 4.8 CFM at 90 psi.

"Our FinishPro Combo Kits have been overwhelmingly popular with users, and it was only a matter of time before they began to ask for similar kits for framing," says Randy Kleeman, SENCO product manager. "One of these FramePro kits is a perfect companion for remodelers, handymen, even heavy DIYers – anyone looking for pro-level package with take-along convenience."

Each kit also includes 25 feet of 3/8" rubber air hose, compressor oil, tool oil, safety glasses and all necessary fittings and wrenches. The kits are available exclusively through authorized SENCO dealers nationwide.

The FramePro 601 Combo Kit features SENCO's sturdy and versatile FramePro 601 clipped-head framing nailer. The FramePro 601 is compact, easy to handle and has excellent line of sight. The FramePro 601 also features a sawtooth safety for precision toenailing, an in-line magazine for superior balance, adjustable depth-of-drive, adjustable exhaust and a soft comfort grip. The powerful framer drives 2" to 3-1/2" nails (either smooth or ring shank) in gauges from .113 to .148.

For users whose jobs call for full-round-head nailing, the FramePro 602 Combo Kit is just the ticket. The SENCO FramePro 602 offers all the same great features as the FramePro 601 but in a full-round-head design.

Part of SENCO's ProSeries line of pneumatic tools, all FramePro tools include a variety of high-quality features, such as adjustable depth-of-drive, sturdy pro-quality castings and internals, ergonomic design and more. FramePro tools are also covered by a full one-year warranty from SENCO.
